Society at a Glance

The institute Netaji Shikshan Santha was established at the auspicious hands of Late Waghaji Shelke and was registered under the Society Trust Act, in 1965. The institute named after freedom fighter Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose. Trustees are belonging to common and agricultural family. With the noble purpose providing educational facilities to rural students in nearby area of Kedgaon.

Institutions and Colleges

With the purpose of addressing the problem of Higher Education, particularly of girl students, the Institution started the Senior College in 2001. Late MLA Mr. Subhash Anna Kul was involved in getting permission from the government. Unfortunately, he died on the day the government granted permission to the college. Therefore this college is named after him. The Institute started Subhash Baburao Kul College with Arts and Commerce Faculties in 2001 and then Science Faculty in 2006. College also run Vocational courses such as Food Processing, Retail Management and Hospitality and Tourism since from 2018. The College attracts mostly the girl students and the students from economically and socially backward classes. Some orphan girls from Pandita Ramabai Mukti Mission are enrolled in Senior College.

Kedgaon

Kedgaon is a historical town in Supe Pargana, which is blessed with the touch of the feet of Shahaji Raje, the thinker of Swarajya. Pandita Ramabai Mukti Mission, a world-renowned organization that takes care of orphans, is working in this same Kedgaon. This village has the legacy of Pandita Ramabai's social work.

In the Kedgaon area, there is the Datta Sansthan, which is influenced by the Datta sect, and the Sanjivan Samadhi of Narayan Maharaj can be seen there. The Datta temple in this sansthan is an excellent example of architecture. Near Kedgaon is the Hemadpanthi temple of Bhuleshwar, which is famous as the Verul of Pune district, and Morgaon, Siddhatek, Theur and Ranjangaon, famous places of Ashtavinayak, are close to Kedgaon.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE THEME

The Multidisciplinary National Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning (AI & ML) focuses on exploring how intelligent technologies are reshaping knowledge systems, professional practices, and society at large. Organized by Subhash Baburao Kul Arts, Commerce and Science College, Kedgaon, affiliated to Savitribai Phule Pune University, the conference provides a common academic platform for scholars, educators, researchers, professionals, and students across disciplines.

The central theme highlights the transformative impact of AI and ML on humanities, social sciences, commerce, science, library studies, physical education, vocational education, and language studies. It encourages critical dialogue on innovation, ethics, governance, sustainability, and inclusivity while examining real-world applications—from education, research writing, business, agriculture, banking, and governance to sports science, digital libraries, material science, and cultural studies. By integrating perspectives from Marathi, Hindi, English, Economics, History, Geography, Political Science, Commerce, Science, B.Voc., Library Science, and Physical Education, the conference aims to:

- Bridge theory and practice in AI & ML
- Promote interdisciplinary research and collaboration
- Address ethical, social, and regulatory challenges
- Foster future-ready skills and responsible innovation

Overall, the theme underscores AI & ML not merely as technologies, but as catalysts for academic transformation and societal progress, especially relevant to India's evolving educational and developmental landscape.
